

IN A FARAWAY LAND

MISS MAE CORWIN'S INTERESTING DESCRIPTION OF TRAVELS.

DON'T LIKE GOAT'S MILK

Urguous Colors in Costume of Camel Driver Keeps Artists of the Party in a Flutter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Corwin received a few days ago their first letter from their daughter, Miss Mae Corwin, who is in Europe on a five months' tour with a party principally composed of artists from various parts of this country. The letter is dated Tangier, Morocco, where they stopped four days.

According to a request made by The Democrat-Forum of Miss Corwin, this paper is pleased to be able to present descriptions of her travels through its columns as often as they are received by Mr. and Mrs. Corwin.

Miss Corwin's first letter reads as follows:

Tangier, Morocco, June 12, 1912.—We leave the great city of Africa tomorrow on an early boat and I shall try to give you a little idea of what these five days I have meant to me. Shall not detail every day's trips from my diary, for events were unevenly divided. The excitement here begins early in the morning and continues all night long.

It is just like a continuous carnival—bells ringing, the constant hum of thousands of voices crying their wares, with the braying of burros cutting through. Our hotel is near the busy part of the city, so we see real life. Near by is the market place, the gathering place for Arabs from the country. They come in great crowds for Saturday, the great market day, and one can scarcely wind his way through loads of hay, burros and crouching humanity. The women carry loads of wood on their backs from miles out and crouch down with the burros as thick as bees on the hard pavement and sell green hay and chickens from barrels quite ingeniously made of poles and rope.

The market is divided according to the nature of the article to be sold. In front of the hotel is the chicken market, next comes the hay market, then the space increases to about two blocks square. Along one way women sell bread in flat loaves like corn pones, which are piled up in stacks in front of each woman, and when night comes she still sits there, remaining until almost morning, with one candle in front of her. The first night we were out late. On returning we found that the men had all left their booths to sleep behind them, but here sat a multitude of white shrouded figures along the "bread way" faces covered, and the one candle by each. Well, really, we thought we had walked into a cemetery when the spirits were up. Last night we saw them sleeping just like a flock of sheep stacked on the rough cobble stones, nothing over them but their rough robes. They always wear the white taweling cape that looks to be cut just like a sheet.

Our principal guide, Larlio, is full of the real Moorish atmosphere. He is a rich brown, has round face and bright eyes, with a constant smile and picturesque English. His costumes make these artists wild. A few days he wore a golden satin waistcoat with deep blue lining, cuffs beautifully braided. His fez was red, his loose flowing hooded coat of silk pongee, bloomers black, a deep blue cord on the morocco bag (which everyone wears to carry all things) under his coat, bare legs and yellow sandals. Seated on his mule in a large red saddle, he was great.

He takes us around the blue painted Moorish district, through crooked, narrow streets, where we have to shrink against the wall to escape a loaded burro, and in one case had to step inside a doorway. There was really not sufficient room in that alleyway, honeycombed with shops, to allow a person and a loaded burro to pass each other. The loads are huge sometimes. In one case we saw all the household furniture of the owner packed on one tiny beast. They are great vehicles of locomotion and common in this land, and just like the women, are badly treated.

You should have seen our party of twenty-five Americans and two guides on our two riding exhibitions. I say exhibitions pompously. We are composed of people, mostly feminine, of all ages and sizes, from all parts of our country. The same may be said for the burros and the "boys" who accompanied each. Nothing more absolutely ludicrous could be imagined. Puck, Judge, Life or McCutcheon have never approached the exquisite comedy that cavalcade presented.

My most vivid recollections of the city are narrow streets and burro rides through the deep blue washed Moorish district as background for the fantastic costumes. Surely all strange sights will be tame to us now. We will gradually work back to English customs and England.

The gardens are lovely—geraniums growing in profusion on walls and hedges, and there are all kinds of tropical trees, such as palms and figs. The cactus is very conspicuous. The country is not exactly what papa would call fertile, so Cousin George says. On our nine-mile trip to the light-house Sparte, we passed no farm houses. There were very few fields or garden spots outside the city.

There is quite a touch of the real desert at one side of the city. Sand several feet in depth and rolling hills, such as only a camel could enjoy. We saw some of those ships of the desert come rolling in. Most of the goods in the shops came so from the interior.

Fez seemed to be a popular manufacturing town, or else one of the few they could pronounce for us. There was fighting at Fez, and just before we left Tangier the French interfered with the price of meat, tried to lower it and there was considerable excitement among the Moors. There were two French and two Moorish battle-ships in the harbor, but nothing came of the mummur. We hoped we might see some real fighting. The French run the banks and other important things at Fez. The lighthouse du Sparte, near the city, is very important, and the French, German, English and Spanish all have equal power over it and assist in its maintenance. With so much outside interference the Moors cannot but lose their identity and nationality soon.

Goat's milk is used almost entirely throughout all these countries, because there is not proper food enough for good cows. The goats are herded out on the leathery wild grass. The herder is generally an old man, pegging along behind with some brass cups attached to his belt, into which he milks your order and hands it to you. There is never any doubt about its being fresh, you see. I have not tasted it yet that I know of, but I don't like any of the milk. The bell of the leader of the herd is the first sound in the morning and is repeated again at evening. At Cadiz the cows are kept in a building, and you go there to see them milked and get a warm glass. Quite a luxury.

We saw women gather the coarse grass into large bunches and load it on burros and take it to market. We also met and snapped some of the women wood carriers, a truly wonderful sight. How human strength can hold up the load they do is more than we could see. They lean over to the waist in the effort, but never falter. We got to use kodaks in Tangier, quite an innovation, as the Moors objected greatly two years ago. They generally hid their faces, but did not get mad when we caught them.

We visited coffee houses at night, where they serve the most delicious tea with mint leaves, hot in a glass. Lemon pop of a very good quality is also a popular drink all through the Latin countries. At these we heard the music of the Orient. They play the tomtom and a stringed instrument, much like a violin, with only four strings, which is held upright. At the Jewish house the very fat dancing girls sang in shrieks and wiggled around, beating their feet on the floor with great force to keep time. Their finger and toe nails are colored orange. At the real Moorish house only men sang, and in unison, with a large orchestra accompaniment, each singer being a player also. They sang us some of the old songs used in Spain before the expulsion, which were really pretty, and they keep wonderful time, coming in after long pauses all at once.

At the Jewish place they had the old method of payment, by sticking a coin on the girl's forehead and cheeks. size and number according to your debt. Mr. Watson and two Englishmen with us followed the lead of a Frenchman and did it and were very proud of themselves. The girls were pretty, but so very fat. They wore a load of skirts, which made them still larger.

The ambassadors, especially Belgian, had beautiful gardens around their villas, and out in one direction, called Mount Washington, the English and Americans had beautiful villas with tropical gardens.

SENATOR LOST SEAT

WILLIAM LORIMER OF ILLINOIS OUSTED FROM HIGH OFFICE.

54 WERE AGAINST HIM

With Only 28 Voting for Him, Junior Senator From Illinois Reached End of Two Years' Fight.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, July 13.—The senate this morning voted on the Lea resolution and declared vacant the seat of William Lorimer of Illinois as senator by a vote of 54 for the resolution to 28 for Senator Lorimer.

Mr. Lorimer concluded his speech this morning defending his title, and the vote was taken soon after.

The evidence upon which Lorimer's expulsion from the senate was demanded was taken up in detail by the accused senator. He reviewed the cases of the "four confessors," as he termed them, upon whose alleged confessions that they had received money at Springfield, Ill., much of the case against him had been built. Charles A. White, he said, was an acknowledged perjurer, while he declared that Beckemeyer, Link and Holtslaw, the other three, had never confessed to being paid anything for voting for Lorimer.

Lorimer declared that the proceeding against Beckemeyer in Cook county had not been intended to disclose corruption in the Illinois legislature, but to destroy Lorimer. He said Beckemeyer never said anything about "Lorimer money" until subjected to the "third degree," a process also inflicted upon Holtslaw. He declared that if Lee O'Neill Browne had surrendered he never would have been subjected to trial.

Senator Lorimer explained this act with much display of feeling toward Senator Reed. He intimated that the latter had phrased his attack in terms calculated to convey suspicion where the facts did not.

He declared he had contributed to Browne's defense because he knew that "if Browne were convicted it would be hard to make any one believe that Lorimer had not bought his seat. They thought Browne couldn't escape. All the power of the third degree was to be used upon him by State Attorney Wayman."

Several dramatic moments occurred during the senator's speech. He had aided White, he said, because the latter had supported him.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bellows Will Attend Canadian Industrial Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Bellows and their son, Harold Bellows, and Mrs. M. J. Honnold drove to Ravenwood Friday evening in the Bellows car, from where Mr. and Mrs. Bellows left for Winnipeg, Canada, to attend the Canadian industrial exposition, which opened July 10 and will continue until July 20.

Mr. Bellows will act as expert judge of the fine cattle on display there, which will be composed principally of Shorthorns. The exposition is a great affair. The finest band in England arrived at Winnipeg this week to furnish the music.

On the coming Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Bellows will be guests at a luncheon given at the Royal Alexandria hotel by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

It is expected that twenty-five or thirty cars will go, or probably one hundred people. Dinner will be taken at the Robidoux hotel in St. Joseph, arrangements having been made for the party. The return trip will be made in the evening, leaving St. Joseph at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Gottlieb Maier went to Hopkins Friday on account of the illness of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Maier, who lives near there.

STILL LIKES MARTZ

MRS. ANDERSON RETURNS WITH SHERIFF AND PRISONER.

PROMISED TO MARRY HER

Painter Who Abandoned Wife and Family Steered Clear of Bigamy—To Be Tried for Desertion.

Sheriff W. R. Tilson brought to Maryville Friday night Alfred Martz, who was arrested at St. Joseph Friday on a charge of wife desertion. Mrs. Emma Anderson of this city also returned with the party. Martz was taken to the county jail and will be kept there, unless bail is given, until the November term of circuit court when his case will come up.

Martz was arrested by two policemen of St. Joseph at station A postoffice, across the street from the Union station in that city. They had been on the lookout for Martz, and when he called at the postoffice for his mail they arrested him. Mrs. Anderson was also found.

Martz, who deserted his wife in this city last Saturday, leaving her in a pitiable condition, she having given birth to a baby on Friday, proposed marriage to Mrs. Anderson, who is a widow and has six children. He told her that he was a single man and that his wife died a year ago. He also made a number of promises, and when they went to St. Joseph on Monday, he said that he would marry her at once, but each time when asked about it he put it off by saying that he was out of money. She went to that city with Martz with the understanding that they were soon to be married.

Mrs. Anderson, when told about Martz, did not have much to say to Sheriff Tilson about the matter, but said that she still had a liking for Martz. She called at Mrs. Hiram Edwards' Saturday morning to see the two Martz children being taken care of by Mrs. Edwards while Mrs. Martz is at the hospital.

Mrs. Martz was taken to the hospital and is still confined there. She told Mrs. Hiram Edwards last night that her husband had been in trouble before with a St. Joseph woman, but he had faithfully promised to be good hereafter. She told Mrs. Edwards that they had lived a number of years near St. Joseph, and about three or four months ago came to Maryville, intending to go from here up in Iowa to visit her relatives and also his parents. Martz's parents live at Ottumwa, Ia. Martz worked here as a painter for B. W. Lemon.

Mrs. Martz said that just as soon as she was able she thought she could take care of her children, and said to Mrs. Edwards:

"How can I ever live again with a man like that?"

She said that her husband has always been very good to her.

They were married about five years ago, and there are three children, a boy 3 years and a girl 1 year old, and the newly born babe.

When Martz was asked by Sheriff Tilson why he deserted his wife and went away with another woman, he said:

"I guess I must have been drunk or out of my head. I didn't know what I was doing."

He expressed the desire after arriving in the city last night to see his wife at the hospital, but his request was not granted by Sheriff Tilson.

FAIR FROM SEPTEMBER 16 TO 21.

So the Street Fair Committee Decided Friday Night—To Solicit Funds Next Week.

At a meeting held Friday night of the street fair committee, it was decided to hold the street fair this year September 16 to 21. Some objection had been made to these dates by a few, but on looking at an almanac the weather was found more favorable at this time than later on.

Solicitors will be out next week to raise money for the fair. It is figured that it will take $3,000 this year. Berney Harris is chairman of the soliciting committee.

THE WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Sunday; slightly cooler tonight.

Dear Doctor: I have a lump on top of my hand, nearly on my wrist, about the size of a nickel. It is bulged out like a barble and seems solid like a bone. Doctor said it was due to a strain. I am 15 years old.

READER.

This lump is undoubtedly what is known as ganglion, or weeping sinew. It is a fibrous sack, containing a watery or jelly-like fluid, and may cause pain and even weakness. A simple way to get rid of them is breaking them by a sharp blow, the patient's wrist being flexed over the operator's knee. I have cured many cases by placing the wrist and the hand on a book and over the lump another book, giving it a sharp blow. After one has been broken, witch hazel extract may be applied and a bandage worn for a few days.

Dear Doctor: What is acetanilide and what are the evil effects when used in laxative cold tablets or headache wafers? What is the cause of severe leg ache in children from 6 to 10 years of age. Is it due to over-exercise?

CONVOY.
Acetanilide is a dangerous poison and I do not recommend its use. Avoid all remedies that contain it or any other poisons. They are unnecessary and always dangerous. This poison is especially dangerous in cases of phthisis. It is a white crystalline

Diabetes—It is generally believed that diabetes is a disease of the kidneys. It is not, but it is a disease that affects and thus involves the kidneys, even to the extent of often diseasing them dangerously.

Sugar produced elsewhere in the body is excreted by the kidneys, which irritates those organs to the secretion of urine in such quantities that the enormous increase of their work, long continued, overstrains them, weakens and causes them to fail, whereupon Bright's disease is superinduced.

Thus it will be seen that while diabetes is not kidney disease it may bring about kidney disease. Diabetes is simply sugar in the urine and is an evidence originally of disease elsewhere in the body.

Over-eating, crowding the functions of the liver to such an extent that it cannot do its work entirely, will cause diabetes. Pancreatic is an inflammation of the pancreas, a gland of the abdomen, that resembles a bunch of grapes—hence racemose, commonly called sweetbread, is another frequent cause of diabetes, and tumor of the brain is another frequent cause.

The pancreas secretes a part of the digestive fluids and in its functions empties into the blood a secretion that neutralizes sugar in the blood and renders it harmless. When this secretion is not sufficient to neutralize the sugar in the blood and kidneys carry it off so long as the quantity is not too great to be thus handled. Otherwise diabetes sets in with the results mentioned.

When diabetes is caused by high living a sensible way to stop it is to stop eating so much and such rich food. Thus the disease is rendered of little consequence by proper and temperate living. Then it will not have the slightest tendency to shorten one's life, more than the usual wear and tear.

The cases of diabetes caused by failure of the pancreas glands to perform their work, are much more dangerous and require skillful, careful and long continued medical treatment that in the nature of things cannot be detailed here. But any case of this kind that comes to the notice of the readers of the Home Health club department will be taken care of by us without fee, and a simple, practical method of home treatment will be suggested to the patient through correspondence.

These papers frequently mention the fact that any affliction not treatable here, because of the fact that it would be impractical by reason of lack of interest, the case will be looked after freely, and without charge, upon application to the Home Health club at its headquarters.

In a general way diabetes is more dangerous because of its promotion of complications than in itself as a disease. When it helps a cold to develop into pneumonia; when it makes a case of tuberculosis from an exposure that would not otherwise have affected any healthy person; when it makes a carbuncle from an ordinary boil—and it often does these things—are circumstances that demand the most serious attention from patient and physician.

All this for the simple reason that diabetes largely increases the susceptibility of the blood, membranes, glands and organs generally to the action of disease germs from inflammation to consumption. This, however, is true of many other abnormal conditions of human structure, that in themselves and alone would be comparatively harmless.

solid, produced by boiling aniline and glacial acetic acid together for several hours. The crystalline mass is then distilled.

Leg ache in children is usually due to over-exercise and bad dietetic habits. I have seen an anxious mother start on a mile walk with a child aged 3 years, holding the child by the hand. She would walk rapidly and the child would have to run as fast as its short legs would permit, still it would lag behind, and get scolded and jerked for not hurrying. As soon as the run of a mile was ended the child was treated to ice cream, candy and fruit, and yet the mother could not understand why the child was not strong and rugged like my boys are. She does not realize her cruelty, and called me a crank when I told her the truth about her own errors. She thinks it cruel to deny children anything, or put them to bed as soon as the lights are needed in the house. Give your child a rest; a nap after dinner, go to bed not later than 6:30 at evening; give wholesome food at mealtime, and if anything between meals let it be fruit. The leg ache will disappear.

STATE ROAD DRAWING TOURISTS

MISSOURI'S HIGHWAY POPULAR
WITH TRAVELERS.

People Going to Colorado and Western Points No Longer Avoid State
Because of Bad Roads.

Columbia, Mo., July 13.--The improvement of the cross-state highway is fast bringing the overland travel of summer tourists through Missouri.

In recent years the people of the East who have taken trips to Colorado
and other Western points by motor car, and in the old days the travelers
in prairie schooners, have avoided the state because of the bad condition and hence the bad reputation of the dirt roads. They have gone around the state, most of them crossing Iowa.

Now that the cross-state highway is being put in shape and soon is to be a rock-surfaced highway these tourists are going through Missouri. The work that has been done in building
the thoroughfare has been widely advertised in the Eastern state.

Recently dozens of motor parties
have passed through Columbia and the other towns along the route on the way West, where the tourists will spend the summer vacation. When they return they will follow the same route. Scarcely a day passes that there is not a motor party here on the way from Kansas City to St. Louis or St. Louis to Kansas City. Many others are using the road to drive
from one county to the other.

Nearly every county along the route has started the work of putting up the red, white and blue markers
and the road already is easy for the motorists to follow. Boone county has placed these markers about half way across the county.

YOUNG FORGER ALSO BIGAMIST

J. M. Baker, Whose Parole Was Revoked by Gov. Stubbs, Has Three Wives.

Leavenworth, Kan., July 13.--Warden Coddling of the state prison has now discovered that J. M. Baker, the paroled prisoner ordered sent back to prison by Gov. Stubbs, because he lied to a girl in South Dakota whom he had met and wooed while a telegraph operator in the employ of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, is already a bigamist.

Warden Coddling, in investigating Baker's record, found that he has been married three times and has two wives at present. The first wife,
Eva May, was divorced from him in Lincoln, Ill., in 1906. Alice Baker
was deserted by Baker at Elgin, Ill.,
in 1909, and his third wife, Maude Mabel, was arrested with him on the forgery charge when he was sent to prison. She was acquitted and lives
at Anthony, Kan.

IMMIGRATION
BARS ARE DOWN

Foreign Born Imbecile Children May

NAGEL'S DECISION FAR REACHING

Secretary's Ruling in Case of Russian
Child Will Let in Undesirable
Foreigners if Parents
Are Naturalized.

Washington, July 13.--All bars restricting the admission to the United States of minor foreign born children
of naturalized citizens, whether imbeciles, idiots or other forbidden
classes, were swept away by a far reaching interpretation of the immigration and naturalization laws by Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The secretary authorized the entry into this country from Russia of Riwke Polayes, 11 years old, who has been held at Ellis Island, N. Y., for several weeks, threatened with deportation on the certificate of surgeons of the public health and marine hospital service that she is an imbecile. Granting that she is an imbecile, the secretary held that the immigration laws were not applicable
to her because her father, Jacob Polayes of New Haven, Conn., is a naturalized citizen.

Overturns Previous Policy.

Mr. Nagel interpreted the law to mean that the naturalization of a man conferred American citizenship
upon all his minor children as soon as they relinquished their residence abroad.

This decision completely overturned
the previous policy of the government.
The law provides that minor children
of an alien who are living in the United States automatically become citizens of this country as soon as their father is naturalized, but officials have invariably held in the past that all children dwelling outside the United States at the time of their father's naturalization must pass the immigration tests before they can enter and claim citizenship.

Wickersham Objected.

The secretary said the question revolved about the interpretation of the word "reside" in the immigration act,
which provides that the citizenship
shall become operative when a minor child "begins to reside permanently
in the United States."

The question never has been decided by the courts in connection with the present immigration laws and there was a wide divergence of opinion among officials. Attorney General Wickersham and practically all of the authorities of the Department of Commerce and Labor at first disagreed
with the secretary, but he is said to have convinced them of the correctness of his position.

GIRLS ON HIKE TO WASHINGTON

Make 25 Miles a Day
on Foot.

Topeka, July 13.--Miss Catherine
Copp, 19 years old, and Miss Alta
Green, 18 years old, will start on a hike to Washington Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock and expect to walk the 1,100 miles from the capitol of Kansas to the capitol of the Nation in 44 days. They figure on walking an average of 25 miles a day, starting at 5 o'clock each morning resting five or six hours during the heat of the midday and then finishing the day's tramp after dark.

The girls will wear high boots and carry a .38 caliber revolver and a bag of toilet articles. They have only a limited supply of money. If it does not last Miss Copp, who is a pianist, expects to use her musical talent while Miss Green, who is an expert seamstress, does not think she will have trouble in making enough money. The girls expect to return from Washington by railroad.

Olathe, Kan., July 13.--The first
new wheat marketed this season here
was purchased by the Hadley Mill-

ley, governor of Missouri, is president and principal stockholder. The price paid was 92 cents a bushel. The wheat was from a field of 39 acres that averaged nearly 40 bushels to the acre and one field which had been heavily fertilized last fall and plowed to a depth of ten inches yielded 43 bushels to the acre. The wheat was turkey red and exceptionally fine quality. There are few fields of hard wheat in this county. The prospects for crops in Johnson county are the best in years.

C. W. B. M. Met Friday.

The C. W. B. M. of the First Christian church met with Mrs. C. B. Roberts Friday afternoon, with Mrs. J. D. Frank as leader. The subject of the lesson was "Mexico." Mrs. Henry Westfall gave a historical sketch and made it very interesting by the use of a map. A short review of the work of the C. W. B. M. in Monterey, Mexico, was given by Mrs. Ed Godsey. What Protestantism has done in Mexico was discussed by Mrs. B. C. Halley. Mrs. C. J. Miller read a letter from Miss Zona Smith, a missionary friend of hers in Buenos Ayres, Argentina, South America. Instrumental solos were given by Miss Mary Thomas and Little Miss Luna Pierpoint. During the social hour the hostess served refreshments, assisted by her daughter, Miss Esther.

Entertained for Visitors.

Miss Gertrude Wright entertained with a progressive speculation party Friday evening, complimentary to her guest, Miss Evangeline Coggin of Hebron, Neb., and to Miss Blanche Hollied of Eldora, Ia., who is visiting Miss Golda Roelofson. Miss Coggin formerly lived in Parnell, when her mother, Mrs. Leola E. Coggin, was principal of the schools there. Miss Hollied is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hollied, formerly of Maryville. Miss Wright was assisted in entertaining her guests by her sisters, Misses Golda and Marie Wright, and Mrs. Lloyd Edwin Conklin of Douglas, Kan., who is here for a several weeks' visit. The guests were Miss Coggin, Miss Hollied, Misses Golda Roelofson, Jeannette and Isora Mutz, Helen and Orlena Helply, Mary and Verna Thomas, Hildred Hanna, Ruth Montgomery, Ruth Matter, Ruby Currutt, Ruby Melvin, Alma Lucas, Neva Airy, Grace Sturm, Marie Byers, Blanche Shipp, Hlene and LaRue Kemp, Gladys Holt, Hermelone Fisher, Litta Roelofson, Marie Wells.

Mothers' Circle Friday.

Fifty-two mothers were present at the meeting of the Mothers' Circle held Friday afternoon at the Jefferson school, and heard Dr. Vilas Martin's excellent address on "The Care of Infants in Hot Weather." The meeting opened with prayer by Dr. J. S. Ford, followed by beautiful guitar and mandolin music, a medley of national airs, by the Dietz sisters—Edna, Esther, Margaret and Grace Dietz, the young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dietz. After Dr. Martin's address the Dietz sisters gave other music and also while ice cream and cake were generously served. Mrs. Mary Kost Riffe, living west of Maryville, was present and presented the cause of the Sunshine society of New York, which cares for all blind babies under 6 years old placed in its care free of charge. She asked all who knew of any blind little ones without a home to let her know of them and she would do her part in putting them where they would be well cared for and well taught. The meeting was quite successful. Much regret was expressed at the absence of Miss Ada Albert, the principal of the Jefferson ward school, whose presence had been counted on by the Circle and the visitors.

Mary Louise Andrews, Hostess.

The S. S. W. club of the Baptist Sunday school met Friday afternoon with Miss Mary Louise Andrews. During the business session it was decided to hold the club meeting every other week instead of weekly. The meeting was opened by all repeating the Lord's prayer. The Bible lesson was then read by the president, Lucille Holmes, and was Paul's sermon, from Acts 17:22-37. The topic for the study hour was "Homes for the Children of Missionaries." Amy Walker telling of the Margaret home in Georgia. Bessie Allen read a paper on "The Negroes of the South," and Louise Shinkle told of "Schools for Negroes." Roll call was responded to by the name of some Baptist church and an interesting fact concerning it. After singing "The Fight is On," by the club, a piano number was given by the hostess, and a vocal duet by two sisters, Elfrida Linnville and her little guest, LaVeta A. Valt of St. Joseph. Another guest of the club, Ruth Simmons of Boileau, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Haidday of South Market street, came with Bessie Allen. After the program games were played and refreshments served. The next meeting will be held with Louise Shinkle, the daughter of Mrs. Walter Wiles.

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die. At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well. I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years.

IS THE TIME TO KILL WEEDS.

Now is the Time to Consider the Most Feasible Plan of Exterminating Weeds for 1913.

It is rather late in the season for the weed campaign, which the city administration is beginning for the purpose of exterminating the noxious growth on the lots and the streets of Kansas City, says the Kansas City Times. Most weeds already have gone to seed. Most weeds already have gone to seed. This means that nature has employed them to increase the 1913 crop. A yearly spasmodic campaign during July and August to mow weeds gets little results. These are the views held by E. R. De Vigne, superintendent of school gardens, board of education.

Now is the time to consider the most feasible and economical plan of exterminating weeds in 1913," said Mr. Le Vigne. "They never can be destroyed here until the importation of seed in grains is stopped. A state law is necessary to accomplish this end. Many tons of weed are shipped yearly into Kansas City to be used as foodstuffs. It is sold at the market grain prices and distributed broadcast over the city.

"Each year weed conditions are growing worse. It is a proposition for an expert backed by municipal authority. An appeal to the people must be made in an educational way. This would result in real extermination in a few years."

NOT ENOUGH SIGNATURES.

One of Two Single Tax Amendments Loses Place on Ballot for Lack of Signatures.

Discovery was made by Secretary of State Roach Friday in checking up the petitions submitted to him for placing the two single tax constitutional amendments on the official ballot, under the initiative and referendum, that one of the proposed amendments, the one that provides for making the single tax amendment effective in case of its adoption by the people next November, lacks a sufficient number of signatures under the law. There is no way to remedy the defect now, and therefore only the single tax amendment will go on the ballot.

Secretary Roach wired S. L. Moser and Frank Ryan of St. Louis, official representative of the organization behind the single tax propaganda, of the defect, but, as stated, nothing can be done.

OKLAHOMA LAND CASES SETTLED

Choctaw and Chickasaw Deeds to White Men Will Stand.

FEDERAL COURT HAD BUSY DAY

Decisions in 2,000 Cases Were Most Important Ever Rendered in State—Each Involves Valuable Allotment.

Muskogee, Ok., July 13.—In the federal court here, Judge Ralph E. Campbell sustained the demurrers of defendants in 2,000 cases, involving lands in the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations and the deeds of the Indians to the white men will stand. In 12,000 other cases the court, it is understood, will overrule the demurrers of the defendants in the morning.

It was announced that 10,000 cases had already been settled out of court prior to the day's proceedings and in these, 7,000 tracts of land were deeded back to the Indians, and in 3,000 cases the white men won their land.

Senator Owen Loses.
Two of the principal losers in the land suits are Senator Robert L. Owen and Justice R. L. Williams, of the Oklahoma supreme court. Judge Williams had 52 different cases which he lost and Senator Owen probably twice that many.

When the court convened in the afternoon it resembled a meeting of the state bar association. There were 161 attorneys present, each representing from ten to 100 clients.

Five Hundred Seminole Cases.

The cases won by the white men were under the decision of the United States supreme court of the States supreme court in the Mullens case, which held that deeds taken to fullblood land allotted prior to April 26, 1896, and after the death of the allottee, were valid. In about 500 cases in the Seminole nation, where freedmen had sold their surplus land, the white men also won their cases.

The decision of the court, both in point of value of property involved and the number of litigants and attorneys was by far the most important ever made in the state.

By one stroke the court placed 12,000 cases on the trial docket, and by another dismissed approximately 2,500. Each case involves an Indian allotment worth from $500 to $1,000.

TWO DIE IN BURNING STREET CAR

Several Others Seriously Injured When Memphis Motorman Refused to Open Gates.

Memphis, Tenn., July 13.—Two women were killed and three others are believed to be dying as a result of a panic on a burning street car here. When the car took fire the motorman refused to release the gates. The passengers were thus held in the car, and, becoming panic-stricken, began jumping from the windows. Two of the women were crushed to death and the three others dangerously injured.

NO DEMAND FOR CAPITOL BONDS

MISSOURI ISSUE BEARS LOW RATE OF INTEREST.

Commissioners Have Not Yet Selected Permanent Plans and Exact Site Still Undetermined.

Jefferson City, July 13.—Only $280,000 of the 3½ million dollars of bonds issued for building a new state capitol have been sold. The low rate of interest and the short period the bonds will run are the reasons the whole issue has not been disposed of. The fund commissioners have no doubt that the bonds can be sold, and will be sold, when the money is needed. No special efforts are being made to dispose of the securities, although they are obtainable at any time the conditions the law imposes are complied with.

The maximum rate of interest is fixed by law at 3½ per cent and at best the last of the bonds will be retired in thirteen years from the date of their issue, January 1, 1912. Financiers say that if the rate of interest had been fixed at 4 per cent there would have been no lack of bidders for the securities.

The bonds are taxable, too. That has been made a point of attack, though it is not in evidence that such securities are ever listed with the assessors.

There is really no necessity for selling the bonds at this time, for the capitol commissioners will not even take up the matter of selecting permanent plans for the new building prior to September 16, much less starting the actual work of constructing the building. This means that work will be delayed for another season. No one pretends to know even approximately when the new building will be completed, nor are there any guesses being made as to when ground will be broken. The exact site of the new structure has not been determined.

WIND DOES DAMAGE OVER NORTHWEST

Worst Storm in Years at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

WIRES DOWN ALL OVER STATE

One Dead and Many Injured by Lightning—Trains Held Up by Wash-Outs—Rain Approached Proportions of Cloudburst.

St. Paul, July 13.—Alma Freyer, aged 22 years, of Ellsworth, Wis., and Mary Bergman, aged 5 were instantly killed by the collapse of a barn on the dairy farm of Bergman Beekers in the outskirts of this city in a fierce wind and rain storm. An 18-month-old child held in Miss Freyer's arms escaped injury and was found under the dead woman's body.

The storm was the worst that has visited St. Paul for years and did considerable damage to buildings and shade trees throughout the city. The wind which lasted but a few minutes, was followed by a rain that almost reached the proportions of a cloudburst.

Lightning Killed One.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 13.—Damage amounting to thousands of dollars was done by a rain and wind storm, which struck Minneapolis with almost the violence of a tornado and which is said to be the worst in years. The wind wrecked sign boards, tore up trees by the roots and broke scores of plate glass windows in the downtown district.

Telephone and telegraph wires are down in many instances and out of commission, while several street car lines are crippled.

Ralph Gillette, aged 30, son of L. S. Gillette, president of a large steel and machinery company, was killed when lightning struck a tree under which he had taken refuge from the storm on the Interlachen Golf club links. E. S. Houston, Dr. W. H. Card and Joe Nelson, a caddy, also were injured by lightning. The latter may die.

Eau Claire, Wis., Also Damaged.

Scores of reports of other injuries from lightning or from wind blown signs, trees and branches came into police headquarters. With the exception of the Gillette death, however, no fatalities have been reported. The total damage in the city will be between $50,000 and $100,000.

The entire damage in the northwest is difficult to ascertain as wires are in trouble and reports from outside districts are difficult to obtain.

Eau Claire, Wis., reports one of the heaviest storms in years. Two passenger trains on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad are being held there because of washouts between that town and Hudson, Wis. Hudson also reports much damage.

NEW INTERURBAN IS FINANCED

Construction to Begin in Spring on Line From Kansas City to Fort Scott and Joplin.

Kansas City, Mo., July 13.—According to John Roe of Merriam, Kan., vice-president, and Fred Pickering consulting engineer of a proposed trolley line from Kansas City to Fort Scott, the plans are well enough advanced to insure the completion of the line.

Fort Scott will be connected with the Joplin and Pittsburg district, making the new road a main trunk line for interurban service from the South and Southwest.

More than 100 property owners along the route have given the right of way and financial backing to the proposed road.

W. T. Quarles of Stanley, Kan., is president, John Roe, Merriam, vice-president; John Schrader, Stanley, treasurer; W. E. Brooks, mayor of Fort Scott, secretary.

Actual construction work probably will begin early next spring.

CAUGHT KIRKSVILLE JOINTIST

Law and Order League Adjourned Meeting to Make a Raid—Got Plenty of "Evidence."

Kirkville, Mo., July 13.—While 30 members of the Adair County Law and Order league were meeting at the M. E. church and discussing methods for keeping Kirkville and the county dry, word was brought that a citizen was in the habit of going each night to the residence of John Zimmerman and buying beer.

The leaguers sent pickets to the Zimmerman home to watch for the habitual purchaser. He entered the house at 10 o'clock and soon came out with a package of beer under his arm. Zimmerman was arrested and the raiders rolled out a barrel of bottled beer and a tub of beer on ice.

One Day's Fee $2,000.

Jefferson City, July 13.—State Auditor Gordon registered 2 million dollars of Kansas City 4 per cent school bonds. The registering fee was $2,000. That is the largest single registration of bonds made here in a number of years. The bonds were brought here by James Jackson, secretary of the Kansas City school board, and Frank Casey.

MISS MAE CORWIN'S INTERESTING DESCRIPTION OF TRAVELS.

DONT LIKE GOAT'S MILK

Gorgeous Colors in Costume of Camel Driver Keeps Artists of the Party in a Flutter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Corwin received a few days ago their first letter from their daughter, Miss Mae Corwin, who is in Europe on a five months' tour with a party principally composed of artists from various parts of this country. The letter is dated Tangier, Morocco, where they stopped four days.

According to a request made by The Democrat-Forum of Miss Corwin, this paper is pleased to be able to present descriptions of her travels through its columns as often as they are received by Mr. and Mrs. Corwin.

Miss Corwin's first letter reads as follows:

Tangier, Morocco, June 12, 1912.—We leave the great city of Africa tomorrow on an early boat and I shall try to give you a little idea of what these five days have meant to me. Shall not detail every day's trips from my diary, for events were unevenly divided. The excitement here begins early in the morning and continues all night long.

It is just like a continuous carnival—bells ringing, the constant hum of thousands of voices crying their wares, with the braying of burros cutting through. Our hotel is near the busy part of the city, so we see real life. Near by is the market place, the gathering place for Arabs from the country. They come in great crowds for Saturday, the great market day, and one can scarcely wind his way through loads of hay, burros and crouching humanity. The women carry loads of wood on their backs from miles out and crouch down with the burros as thick as bees on the hard pavement and sell green hay and chickens from barrels quite ingeniously made of poles and rope.

The market is divided according to the nature of the article to be sold. In front of the hotel is the chicken market, next comes the hay market, then the space increases to about two blocks square. Along one way women sell bread in flat loaves like corn pones, which are piled up in stacks in front of each woman, and when night comes she still sits there, remaining until almost morning, with one candle in front of her. The first night we were out late. On returning we found that the men had all left their booths to sleep behind them, but here sat a multitude of white shrouded figures along the "bread way," faces covered, and the one candle by each. Well, really, we thought we had walked into a cemetery when the spirits were up. Last night we saw them sleeping just like a flock of sheep stacked on the rough cobble stones, nothing over them but their rough robes. They always wear the white toweling cape that looks to be cut just like a sheet.

Our principal guide, Larlio, is full of the real Moorish atmosphere. He is a rich brown, has round face and bright eyes, with a constant smile and picturesque English. His costumes make these artists wild. A few days he wore a golden satin waistcoat with deep blue lining, cuffs beautifully braided. His fez was red, his loose flowing hooded coat of silk pongee, bloomers black, a deep blue cord on the morocco bag (which everyone wears to carry all things) under his coat, bare legs and yellow sandals. Seated on his mule in a large red saddle, he was great.

He takes us around the blue painted Moorish district, through crooked, narrow streets, where we have to shrink against the wall to escape a loaded burro, and in one case had to step inside a doorway. There was really not sufficient room in that alleyway, honeycombed with shops, to allow a person and a loaded burro to pass each other. The loads are huge sometimes. In one case we saw all the household furniture of the owner packed on one tiny beast. They are great vehicles of locomotion and commotion in this land, and just like the women, are badly treated.

You should have seen our party of twenty-five Americans and two guides on our two riding exhibitions. I say exhibitions pompously. We are composed of people, mostly feminine, of all ages and sizes, from all parts of our country. The same may be said for the burros and the "boys" who accompanied each. Nothing more absolutely ludicrous could be imagined. Puck, Judge, Life or McCutcheon have never approached the exquisite comedy that cavalcade presented.

My most vivid recollections of the city are narrow streets and burro rides through the deep blue washed Moorish district as background for the fantastic costumes. Surely all strange sights will be tame to us now. We will gradually work back to English customs and England.

The gardens are lovely—geraniums growing in profusion on walls and hedges, and there are all kinds of tropical trees, such as palms and figs. The cactus is very conspicuous. The country is not exactly what papa would call fertile, so Cousin George says. On our nine-mile trip to the light-house Sparte, we passed no farm houses. There were very few fields or garden spots outside the city.

There is quite a touch of the real desert at one side of the city. Sand several feet in depth and rolling hills, such as only a camel could enjoy. We saw some of those ships of the desert come rolling in. Most of the goods in the shops came so from the interior.

Fez seemed to be a popular manufacturing town, or else one of the few they could pronounce for us. There was fighting at Fez, and just before we left Tangier the French interfered with the price of meat, tried to lower it and there was considerable excitement among the Moors. There were two French and two Moorish battleships in the harbor, but nothing came of the murrain. We hoped we might see some real fighting. The French run the banks and other important things at Fez. The lighthouse du Sparte, near the city, is very important, and the French, German, English and Spanish all have equal power over it and assist in its maintenance. With so much outside interference the Moors cannot but lose their identity and nationality soon.

Goat's milk is used almost entirely throughout all these countries, because there is not proper food enough for good cows. The goats are herded out on the leathery wild grass. The herder is generally an old man, pegging along behind with some brass cups attached to his belt, into which he milks your order and hands it to you. There is never any doubt about its being fresh, you see. I have not tasted it yet that I know of, but I don't like any of the milk. The bell of the leader of the herd is the first sound in the morning and is repeated again at evening. At Cadiz the cows are kept in a building, and you go there to see them milked and get a warm glass. Quite a luxury.

We saw women gather the coarse grass into large bunches and load it on burros and take it to market. We also met and snapped some of the women wood carriers, a truly wonderful sight. How human strength can hold up the load they do is more than we could see. They lean over to the waist in the effort, but never falter. We got to use kodaks in Tangier, quite an innovation, as the Moors objected greatly two years ago. They generally hid their faces, but did not get mad when we caught them.

We visited coffee houses at night, where they serve the most delicious tea with mint leaves, hot in a glass. Lemon pop of a very good quality is also a popular drink all through the Latin countries. At these we heard the music of the Orient. They play the tom-tom and a stringed instrument, much like a violin, with only four strings, which is held upright. At the Jewish house the very fat dancing girls sang in shrieks and wiggled around, beating their feet on the floor with great force to keep time. Their finger and toe nails are colored orange. At the real Moorish house only men sang, and in unison, with a large orchestra accompaniment, each singer being a player also. They sang us some of the old songs used in Spain, before the expulsion, which were really pretty, and they keep wonderful time, coming in after long pauses all at once.

At the Jewish place they had the old method of payment, by sticking a coin on the girl's forehead and cheeks, size and number according to your debt. Mr. Watson and two Englishmen with us followed the lead of a Frenchman and did it and were very proud of themselves. The girls were pretty, but so very fat. They wore a load of skirts, which made them still larger.

The ambassadors, especially Belgian, had beautiful gardens around their villas, and out in one direction, called Mount Washington, the English and Americans had beautiful villas with tropical gardens.

ALL BIDS NOT IN.

That's Why Nothing Has Been Done About the Band Stand in Court House Yard.

Since the plans of the band stand in the court house yard have been submitted to all of the contractors, and a few bids are still out, nothing has been done lately in regard to the stand.

Another effort will be made to get the bids in so as to get to work on the stand within the next few weeks. Over $300 has been raised for this purpose.

Returned From Eastern Trip.

Guests at Harrel Home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller of Omaha arrived in the city Friday and are guests at the home of Mr. Miller's sister, Mrs. Lee Harrel. Mr. Miller is clerk of the Paxton hotel at Omaha, of which his cousin, Mr. Ralph Kitchen, is owner and proprietor.

Mrs. Gottlieb Maier went to Hopkins Friday on account of the illness of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Maier, who lives near there.

STILL LIKES MARTZ

MRS. ANDERSON RETURNS WITH SHERIFF AND PRISONER.

PROMISED TO MARRY HER

Painter Who Abandoned Wife and Family Steered Clear of Bigamy—To Be Tried for Desertion.

Sheriff W. R. Tilson brought to Maryville Friday night Alfred Martz, who was arrested at St. Joseph Friday on a charge of wife desertion. Mrs. Emma Anderson of this city also returned with the party. Martz was taken to the county jail and will be kept there, unless bail is given, until the November term of circuit court when his case will come up.

Martz was arrested by two policemen of St. Joseph at station A postoffice, across the street from the Union station in that city. They had been on the lookout for Martz, and when he called at the postoffice for his mail they arrested him. Mrs. Anderson was also found.

Martz, who deserted his wife in this city last Saturday, leaving her in a pitiable condition, she having given birth to a baby on Friday, proposed marriage to Mrs. Anderson, who is a widow and has six children. He told her that he was a single man and that his wife died a year ago. He also made a number of promises, and when they went to St. Joseph on Monday, he said that he would marry her at once, but each time when asked about it he put it off by saying that he was out of money. She went to that city with Martz with the understanding that they were soon to be married.

Mrs. Anderson, when told about Martz, did not have much to say to Sheriff Tilson about the matter, but said that she still had a liking for Martz. She called at Mrs. Hiram Edwards' Saturday morning to see the two Martz children being taken care of by Mrs. Edwards while Mrs. Martz is at the hospital.

Mrs. Martz was taken to the hospital and is still confined there. She told Mrs. Hiram Edwards last night that her husband had been in trouble before with a St. Joseph woman, but he had faithfully promised to be good hereafter. She told Mrs. Edwards that they had lived a number of years near St. Joseph, and about three or four months ago came to Maryville, intending to go from here up in Iowa to visit her relatives and also his parents. Martz's parents live at Ottumwa, Ia. Martz worked here as a painter for B. W. Lemon.

Mrs. Martz said that just as soon as she was able she thought she could take care of her children, and said to Mrs. Edwards:

"How can I ever live again with a man like that?"

She said that her husband has always been very good to her.

They were married about five years ago, and there are three children, a boy 3 years and a girl 1 year old, and the newly born babe.

When Martz was asked by Sheriff Tilson why he deserted his wife and went away with another woman, he said:

"I guess I must have been drunk out of my head. I didn't know what I was doing."

He expressed the desire after arriving in the city last night to see his wife at the hospital, but his request was not granted by Sheriff Tilson.

FAIR FROM SEPTEMBER 16 TO 21.

So the Street Fair Committee Decided Friday Night—To Solicit Funds Next Week.

At a meeting held Friday night of the street fair committee, it was decided to hold the street fair this year September 16 to 21. Some objection had been made to these dates by a few, but on looking at an almanac the weather was found more favorable at this time than later on.

Solicitors will be out next week to raise money for the fair. It is figured that it will take $3,000 this year. Berney Harris is chairman of the soliciting committee.

THE WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Sunday; slightly cooler tonight.

Home Health Club

By DR. DAVID H. REEDER, LaPorte, Ind.

Diabetes—It is generally believed that diabetes is a disease of the kidneys. It is not, but it is a disease that affects and thus involves the kidneys, even to the extent of often diseasing them dangerously.

Sugar produced elsewhere in the body is excreted by the kidneys, which irritates those organs to the secretion of urine in such quantities that the enormous increase of their work, long continued, overstrains them, weakens and cause them to fail, whereupon Bright's disease is superinduced.

Thus it will be seen that while diabetes is not kidney disease it may bring about kidney disease. Diabetes is simply sugar in the urine and is an evidence originally of disease elsewhere in the body.

Over-eating, crowding the functions of the liver to such an extent that it cannot do its work entirely, will cause diabetes. Pancreatic is an inflammation of the pancreas, a gland of the abdomen, that resembles a bunch of grapes—hence racemose, commonly called sweetbread, is another frequent cause of diabetes, and tumor of the brain is another frequent cause.

The pancreas secretes a part of the digestive fluids and in its functions empties into the blood a secretion that neutralizes sugar in the blood and renders it harmless. When this secretion is not sufficient to neutralize the sugar in the blood and kidneys carry it off so long as the quantity is not too great to be thus handled. Otherwise diabetes sets in with the results mentioned.

When diabetes is caused by high living a sensible way to stop it is to stop eating so much and such rich food. Thus the disease is rendered of little consequence by proper and temperate living. Then it will not have the slightest tendency to shorten one's life, more than the usual wear and tear.

The cases of diabetes caused by failure of the pancreas glands to perform their work, are much more dangerous and require skillful, careful and long continued medical treatment that in the nature of things cannot be detailed here. But any case of this kind that comes to the notice of the readers of the Home Health club department will be taken care of by us without fee, and a simple, practical method of home treatment will be suggested to the patient through correspondence.

These papers frequently mention the fact that any affliction not treatable here, because of the fact that it would be impractical by reason of lack of interest, the case will be looked after freely, and without charge, upon application to the Home Health club at its headquarters.

In a general way diabetes is more dangerous because of its promotion of complications than in itself as a disease. When it helps a cold to develop into pneumonia; when it makes a case of tuberculosis from an exposure that would not otherwise have affected any healthy person; when it makes a carbuncle from an ordinary boil—and it often does these things—are circumstances that demand the most serious attention from patient and physician.

All this for the simple reason that diabetes largely increases the susceptibility of the blood, membranes, glands and organs generally to the action of disease germs from inflammation to consumption. This, however, is true of many other abnormal conditions of human structure, that in themselves and alone would be comparatively harmless.

Club Notes.

Dear Doctor: I have a lump on top of my hand, nearly on my wrist, about the size of a nickel. It is bulged out like a barble and seems solid like a bone. Doctor said it was due to a strain. I am 15 years old.

READER.

This lump is undoubtedly what is known as ganglion, or weeping sinew. It is a fibrous sack, containing a watery or jelly-like fluid, and may cause pain and even weakness. A simple way to get rid of them is breaking them by a sharp blow, the patient's wrist being flexed over the operator's knee. I have cured many cases by placing the wrist and the hand on a book and over the lump another book, giving it a sharp blow. After one has been broken, witch hazel extract may be applied and a bandage worn for a few days.

Dear Doctor: What is acetanilide and what are the evil effects when used in laxative cold tablets or headache wafers? What is the cause of severe leg ache in children from 6 to 10 years of age. Is it due to over-exercise?

CONVOY.
Acetanilide is a dangerous poison and I do not recommend its use. Avoid all remedies that contain it or any other poisons. They are unnecessary and always dangerous. This poison is especially dangerous in cases of phthisis. It is a white crystalline solid, produced by boiling aniline and glacial acetic acid together for several hours. The crystalline mass is then distilled.

Leg ache in children is usually due to over-exercise and bad diet habits. I have seen an anxious mother start on a mile walk with a child aged 3 years, holding the child by the hand. She would walk rapidly and the child would have to run as fast as its short legs would permit, still it would lag behind, and get scolded and jerked for not hurrying. As soon as the run of a mile was ended the child was treated to ice cream, candy and fruit, and yet the mother could not understand why the child was not strong and rugged like my boys are. She does not realize her cruelty, and called me a crank when I told her the truth about her own errors. She thinks it cruel to deny children anything, or put them to bed as soon as the lights are needed in the house. Give your child a rest; a nap after dinner, go to bed not later than 6:30 at evening; give wholesome food at mealtime, and if anything between meals let it be fruit. The leg ache will disappear.

MISSOURI'S HIGHWAY POPULAR
WITH TRAVELERS.

People Going to Colorado and Western Points No Longer Avoid State
Because of Bad Roads.

Columbia, Mo., July 13.—The improvement of the cross-state highway
is fast bringing the overland travel of summer tourists through Missouri.

In recent years the people of the East who have taken trips to Colorado
and other Western points by motor
car, and in the old days the travelers
in prairie schooners, have avoided the state because of the bad condition and
hence the bad reputation of the dirt
roads. They have gone around the state, most of them crossing Iowa.

Now that the cross-state highway
is being put in shape and soon is to be a rock-surfaced highway these tourists are going through Missouri. The work that has been done in building
the thoroughfare has been widely advertised in the Eastern state.

Recently dozens of motor parties
have passed through Columbia and the other towns along the route on the way West, where the tourists will spend the summer vacation. When they return they will follow the same route. Scarcely a day passes that there is not a motor party here on the way from Kansas City to St. Louis
or St. Louis to Kansas City. Many others are using the road to drive
from one county to the other.

Nearly every county along the route has started the work of putting
up the red, white and blue markers
and the road already is easy for the motorists to follow. Boone county
has placed these markers about half
way across the county.

YOUNG FORGER ALSO BIGAMIST

J. M. Baker, Whose Parole Was Re-
voked by Gov. Stubbs, Has Three Wives.

Leavenworth, Kan., July 13.—Warden Coddling of the state prison has now discovered that J. M. Baker, the paroled prisoner ordered sent back to prison by Gov. Stubbs, because he lied to a girl in South Dakota whom
he had met and wooed while a telegraph operator in the employ of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, is already a bigamist.

Warden Coddling, in investigating Baker's record, found that he has been married three times and has
two wives at present. The first wife,
Eva May, was divorced from him in Lincoln, Ill., in 1906. Alice Baker,
was deserted by Baker at Elgin, Ill.,
in 1909, and his third wife, Maude
Mabel, was arrested with him on the forgery charge when he was sent to prison. She was acquitted and lives
at Anthony, Kan.

IMMIGRATION BARS ARE DOWN

Foreign Born Imbecile Children May

NAGEL'S DECISION FAR REACHING

Secretary's Ruling in Case of Russian
Child Will Let in Undesirable
Foreigners If Parents
Are Naturalized.

Washington, July 13.—All bars restricting the admission to the United States of minor foreign born children
of naturalized citizens, whether im-
beciles, idiots or other forbidden
classes, were swept away by a far
reaching interpretation of the immigration and naturalization laws by Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The secretary authorized the entry
into this country from Russia of Riwke Polayes, 11 years old, who has been held at Ellis Island, N. Y., for several weeks, threatened with deportation on the certificate of surgeons of the public health and marine
hospital service that she is an imbecile. Granting that she is an imbecile, the secretary held that the
immigration laws were not applicable
to her because her father, Jacob Polayes of New Haven, Conn., is a
naturalized citizen.

Overturns Previous Policy.

Mr. Nagel interpreted the law to mean that the naturalization of a man conferred American citizenship
upon all his minor children as soon
as they relinquished their residence
abroad.

This decision completely overturned
the previous policy of the government.
The law provides that minor children
of an alien who are living in the United States automatically become
citizens of this country as soon as
their father is naturalized, but officials have invariably held in the past
that all children dwelling outside the United States at the time of their father's naturalization must pass the immigration tests before they can enter and claim citizenship.

Wickersham Objected.

The secretary said the question reolved about the interpretation of the word "reside" in the immigration act,
which provides that the citizenship
shall become operative when a minor
child "begins to reside permanently
in the United States."

The question never has been decided by the courts in connection with the present immigration laws and there was a wide divergence of opinion among officials. Attorney General Wickersham and practically all of the authorities of the Department of Commerce and Labor at first disagreed
with the secretary, but he is said to have convinced them of the correctness of his position.

Copp, 19 years old, and Miss Alta

sas to the capitol of the Nation in

5 o'clock each morning resting five

midday and then finishing the day's
tramp after dark.

The girls will wear high boots and
carry a .38 caliber revolver and a bag

have trouble in making enough money. The girls expect to return
from Washington by railroad.

Olathe, Kan., July 13.—The first
new wheat marketed this season here
was purchased by the Hadley Mill-

ley, governor of Missouri, is president and principal stockholder. The price paid was 92 cents a bushel. The wheat was from a field of 39 acres
that averaged nearly 40 bushels to the acre and one field which had been heavily fertilized last fall and plowed
to a depth of ten inches yielded 43 bushels to the acre. The wheat was turkey red and exceptionally fine
quality. There are few fields of hard wheat in this county. The prospects for crops in Johnson county are the best in years.

Mothers' Circle Friday.

Fifty-two mothers were present at the meeting of the Mothers' Circle held Friday afternoon at the Jefferson school, and heard Dr. Vilas Martin's excellent address on "The Care of Infants in Hot Weather." The meeting opened with prayer by Dr. J. S. Ford, followed by beautiful guitar and mandolin music, a medley of national airs, by the Dietz sisters—Edna, Esther, Margaret and Grace Dietz, the young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dietz. After Dr. Martin's address the Dietz sisters gave other music and also while ice cream and cake were generously served. Mrs. Mary Kost Riffe, living west of Maryville, was present and presented the cause of the Sunshine society of New York, which cares for all blind babies under 6 years old placed in its care free of charge. She asked all who knew of any blind little ones without a home to let her know of them and she would do her part in putting them where they would be well cared for and well taught. The meeting was quite successful. Much regret was expressed at the absence of Miss Ada Albert, the principal of the Jefferson ward school, whose presence had been counted on by the Circle and the visitors.

Mary Louise Andrews, Hostess.

The S. S. W. club of the Baptist Sunday school met Friday afternoon with Miss Mary Louise Andrews. During the business session it was decided to hold the club meeting every other week instead of weekly. The meeting was opened by all repeating the Lord's prayer. The Bible lesson was then read by the president, Lucille Holmes, and was Paul's sermon, from Acts 17:22-37. The topic for the study hour was "Homes for the Children of Missionaries," Amy Walker telling of the Margaret home in Georgia. Bessie Allen read a paper on "The Negroes of the South," and Louise Shinkle told of "Schools for Negroes." Roll call was responded to by the name of some Baptist church and an interesting fact concerning it. After singing "The Fight is On," by the club, a piano number was given by the hostess, and a vocal duet by two sisters, Elfrida Linville and her little guest, LaVeta A. Valt of St. Joseph. Another guest of the club, Ruth Simmons of Bolekow, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Halliday of South Market street, came with Bessie Allen. After the program games were played and refreshments served. The next meeting will be held with Louise Shinkle, the daughter of Mrs. Walter Wiles.

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die. At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well. I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years.

Your druggist sells it. Please try it. N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Leiber Holmes will return home Sunday morning from Peoria, Ill., where he has been attending the Bradley Polytechnical school. He finished the school this year and received his diploma.

IS THE TIME TO KILL WEEDS.

Now is the Time to Consider the Most Feasible Plan of Exterminating Weeds for 1913.

It is rather late in the season for the weed campaign, which the city administration is beginning for the purpose of exterminating the noxious growth on the lots and the streets of Kansas City, says the Kansas City Times. Most weeds already have gone to seed. Most weeds already have gone to seed. This means that nature has employed them to increase the 1913 crop. A yearly spasmodic campaign during July and August to mow weeds gets little results. These are the views held by E. R. De Vigne, superintendent of school gardens, board of education.

Now is the time to consider the most feasible and economical plan of exterminating weeds in 1913," said Mr. Le Vigne. "They never can be destroyed here until the importation of seed in grains is stopped. A state law is necessary to accomplish this end. Many tons of weed are shipped yearly into Kansas City to be used as feedstuffs. It is sold at the market grain prices and distributed broadcast over the city.

"Each year weed conditions are growing worse. It is a proposition for an expert backed by municipal authority. An appeal to the people must be made in an educational way. This would result in real extermination in a few years."

NOT ENOUGH SIGNATURES.

One of Two Single Tax Amendments Loses Place on Ballot for Lack of Signatures.

Discovery was made by Secretary of State Roach Friday in checking up the petitions submitted to him for placing the two single tax constitutional amendments on the official ballot, under the initiative and referendum, that one of the proposed amendments, the one that provides for making the single tax amendment effective in case of its adoption by the people next November, lacks a sufficient number of signatures under the law. There is no way to remedy the defect now, and therefore only the single tax amendment will go on the ballot.

Secretary Roach wired S. L. Moser and Frank Ryan of St. Louis, official representative of the organization behind the single tax propaganda, of the defect, but, as stated, nothing can be done.

OKLAHOMA LAND CASES SETTLED

Choctaw and Chickasaw Deeds to White Men Will Stand.

FEDERAL COURT HAD BUSY DAY

Decisions in 2,000 Cases Were Most Important Ever Rendered in State—Each Involves Valuable Allotment.

Muskogee, Ok., July 13.—In the federal court here, Judge Ralph E. Campbell sustained the demurrers of defendants in 2,000 cases, involving lands in the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations and the deeds of the Indians to the white men will stand. In 12,000 other cases the court, it is understood, will overrule the demurrers of the defendants in the morning.

It was announced that 10,000 cases had already been settled out of court prior to the day's proceedings and in these, 7,000 tracts of land were deeded back to the Indians, and in 3,000 cases the white men won their land.

Senator Owen Loses.
Two of the principal losers in the land suits are Senator Robert L. Owen and Justice R. L. Williams, of the Oklahoma supreme court. Judge Williams had 52 different cases which he lost and Senator Owen probably twice that many.

When the court convened in the afternoon it resembled a meeting of the state bar association. There were 161 attorneys present, each representing from ten to 100 clients.

Five Hundred Seminole Cases.

The cases won by the white men were under the decision of the United States supreme court of the States supreme court in the Mullens case, which held that deeds taken to fullblood land allotted prior to April 26, 1896, and after the death of the allottee, were valid. In about 500 cases in the Seminole nation, where freedmen had sold their surplus land, the white men also won their cases.

The decision of the court, both in point of value of property involved and the number of litigants and attorneys was by far the most important ever made in the state.

By one stroke the court placed 12,000 cases on the trial docket, and by another dismissed approximately 2,500. Each case involves an Indian allotment worth from $500 to $1,000.

TWO DIE IN BURNING STREET CAR

Several Others Seriously Injured When Memphis Motorman Refused to Open Gates.

Memphis, Tenn., July 13.—Two women were killed and three others are believed to be dying as a result of a panic on a burning street car here. When the car took fire the motorman refused to release the gates. The passengers were thus held in the car, and, becoming panic-stricken, began jumping from the windows. Two of the women were crushed to death and the three others dangerously injured.

NO DEMAND FOR CAPITOL BONDS

MISSOURI ISSUE BEARS LOW RATE OF INTEREST.

Commissioners Have Not Yet Selected Permanent Plans and Exact Site Still Undetermined.

Jefferson City, July 13.—Only $280,000 of the $1 1/2 million dollars of bonds issued for building a new state capitol have been sold. The low rate of interest and the short period the bonds will run are the reasons the whole issue has not been disposed of. The fund commissioners have no doubt that the bonds can be sold, and will be sold, when the money is needed. No special efforts are being made to dispose of the securities, although they are obtainable at any time the conditions the law imposes are complied with.

The maximum rate of interest is fixed by law at 3 1/2 per cent and at best the last of the bonds will be retired in thirteen years from the date of their issue, January 1, 1912. Financiers say that if the rate of interest had been fixed at 4 per cent there would have been no lack of bidders for the securities.

The bonds are taxable, too. That has been made a point of attack, though it is not in evidence that such securities are ever listed with the assessors.

There is really no necessity for selling the bonds at this time, for the capitol commissioners will not even take up the matter of selecting permanent plans for the new building prior to September 16, much less starting the actual work of constructing the building. This means that work will be delayed for another season. No one pretends to know even approximately when the new building will be completed, nor are there any guesses being made as to when ground will be broken. The exact site of the new structure has not been determined.

WIND DOES DAMAGE OVER NORTHWEST

Worst Storm in Years at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

WIRES DOWN ALL OVER STATE

One Dead and Many Injured by Lightning—Trains Held Up by Wash-Outs—Rain Approached Proportions of Cloudburst.

St. Paul, July 13.—Alma Freyer, aged 22 years, of Ellsworth, Wis., and Mary Bergman, aged 5 were instantly killed by the collapse of a barn on the dairy farm of Bergman Beckers in the outskirts of this city in a fierce wind and rain storm. An 18-month-old child held in Miss Freyer's arms escaped injury and was found under the dead woman's body.

The storm was the worst that has visited St. Paul for years and did considerable damage to buildings and shade trees throughout the city. The wind which lasted but a few minutes, was followed by a rain that almost reached the proportions of a cloudburst.

Lightning Killed One.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 13.—Damage amounting to thousands of dollars was done by a rain and wind storm, which struck Minneapolis with almost the violence of a tornado and which is said to be the worst in years. The wind wrecked sign boards, tore up trees by the roots and broke scores of plate glass windows in the downtown district.

Telephone and telegraph wires are down in many instances and out of commission, while several street car lines are crippled.

Ralph Gillette, aged 30, son of L. S. Gillette, president of a large steel and machinery company, was killed when lightning struck a tree under which he had taken refuge from the storm on the Interlachen Golf club links. E. S. Houston, Dr. W. H. Card and Joe Nelson, a caddy, also were injured by lightning. The latter may die.

Eau Claire, Wis., Also Damaged.

Scores of reports of other injuries from lightning or from wind blown signs, trees and branches came into police headquarters. With the exception of the Gillette death, however, no fatalities have been reported. The total damage in the city will be between $50,000 and $100,000.

The entire damage in the northwest is difficult to ascertain as wires are in trouble and reports from outside districts are difficult to obtain.

Eau Claire, Wis., reports one of the heaviest storms in years. Two passenger trains on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad are being held there because of washouts between that town and Hudson, Wis. Hudson also reports much damage.

NEW INTERURBAN IS FINANCED

Construction to Begin in Spring on Line From Kansas City to Fort Scott and Joplin.

Kansas City, Mo., July 13.—According to John Roe of Merriam, Kan., vice-president, and Fred Pickering consulting engineer of a proposed trolley line from Kansas City to Fort Scott, the plans are well enough advanced to insure the completion of the line.

Fort Scott will be connected with the Joplin and Pittsburg district, making the new road a main trunk line for interurban service from the South and Southwest.

More than 100, property owners along the route have given the right of way and financial backing to the proposed road.

W. T. Quarles of Stanley, Kan., is president, John Roe, Merriam, vice-president; John Schrader, Stanley, treasurer; W. E. Brooks, mayor of Fort Scott, secretary.

Actual construction work probably will begin early next spring.

CAUGHT KIRKSVILLE JOINTIST

Law and Order League Adjourned Meeting to Make a Raid—Got Plenty of "Evidence."

Kirksville, Mo., July 13.—While 30 members of the Adair County Law and Order league were meeting at the M. E. church and discussing methods for keeping Kirksville and the county dry, word was brought that a citizen was in the habit of going each night to the residence of John Zimmerman and buying beer.

The leaguers sent pickets to the Zimmerman home to watch for the habitual purchaser. He entered the house at 10 o'clock and soon came out with a package of beer under his arm. Zimmerman was arrested and the raiders rolled out a barrel of bottled beer and a tub of beer on ice.

One Day's Fee $2,000.

Jefferson City, July 13.—State Auditor Gordon registered 2 million dollars of Kansas City 4 per cent school bonds. The registering fee was $2,000. That is the largest single registration of bonds made here in a number of years. The bonds were brought here by James Jackson, secretary of the Kansas City school board, and Frank Casey.
